1. Contrary to a rumor circulating in Belgrade, no Cominformists have been released recently by the Yugoslav Government.<sup>1</sup>
2. It is admitted that the USSR has been pressuring for an expansion of its mission in Yugoslavia, but Belgrade has informed Moscow that no expansion will be permitted and that visas for new personnel will be issued only on a replacement basis. The one exception to this rule is that Yugoslavia will permit one military attache (army, navy and air) for each Yugoslav military officer granted entry by the USSR. Consequently, since Yugoslavia desires more representatives in Moscow, there might be a small increase of the USSR military mission in Belgrade.
